

Gustav Nyqvist is my name. I am a 36 year old Swedish reporter, producer living in Gothenburg, Sweden.

I'm going to The US to do a podcast mini-series on The US political climate, centered on new movements, at the time of the Midterm elections. The series Radio Utblick, is a podcast I host and produce for the Society of International Affairs in Gothenburg. An organization made up of current and former students of international relations and political science, where I am one of the latter.

I will be reaching out to and focusing on new movements (#MeToo, #NeverAgain, #BlackLivesMatter, #MAGA, #SwingLeft, #BlueWave, #TeaParty, #Dreamers, etc) and private citizens representative of the traditional liberal and conservative voter or none-voter. Trying to find out about hopes and fears Americans have going forward. Catered and in contrast to a Swedish (and international) audience.

At utblick.podbean.com there are a number of shows I have made for the Society of International Affairs in Gothenburg. The two most recent ones on the challenges for Europe and Mexico. They are pretty academic and the format for this podcast series is not going to be as academic. More of a portrait.

My last production for a different organization, was a series on the Swedish election, focused on the local parliament election in Gothenburg. In Swedish tongue, for a local Gothenburg audience.
